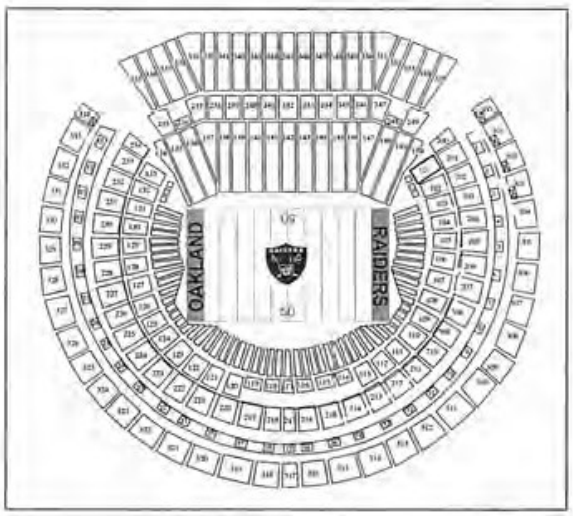
The Oakland Raiders Facility

The Oakland Raiders permanent facility sits on approximately 13 acres in the Harbor Bay Business and Research Park in Alameda. The state-of-the-art facility is located just west of the Oakland International Airport, about one mile from the team's former training facility on Doolittle Drive in Oakland and about three miles from Network Associates Coliseum.

The 100,000-square foot facility houses the team's executive and administrative offices as well as coaches offices, player meeting rooms locker rooms, training facility, television and radio studios and media center. Three full-sized practice fields are located on the property. The Silver and Black moved football and business operations into the facility in mid-June 1996 and in 1997, major improvements and renovations were made at the facility to suit the team's present needs. In 2002, the Raiders installed FieldTurf, an all-weather, state-of-the-art synthetic turf.

Network Associates Coliseum



Oakland Raiders home games are played at Network Associates Coliseum in Oakland. The Coliseum opened on September 18, 1966 with the Raiders hosting the Kansas City Chiefs. The Coliseum, located three miles from Oakland International Airport, was built by the City of Oakland and the County of Alameda.

The all-time Coliseum record for football attendance is 62,748 fans on January 14, 2001, when the Raiders hosted the Baltimore Ravens in the AFC Championship Game.

The Coliseum underwent a major renovation that began during the Raiders 1995 season. The remodeled Coliseum's capacity is now 63,132, including added luxury suites, club levels, two new club lounges, new locker rooms, remodeled press box, new video scoreboards and additional amenities.The playing surface is natural grass. Nearly 100 million people have passed through the turnstiles of the Coliseum, which rests on 120 acres. Originally known as the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum, it was re-named Network Associates Coliseum in October 1998.

THE GREATNESS OF THE RAIDERS

The Raiders, who began play in the American Football League in 1960, enter their 44th year of professional football competition, including the last 33 as a member of the National Football League.

For over five decades — the 1960s, '70s, '80s, '90s and the 2000s — the Raiders have been the most dominant team in professional football since Al Davis first pledged in 1963 to build the finest organization in pro sports.

The Raiders were the only NFL team to win its division for the past three years, once again capturing the AFC West in 2002, with an 11-5 record, despite playing the toughest schedule in the NFL. The Raiders won the AFC Championship for the fourth time, and with their appearance in Super Bowl XXXVII, became the only NFL team to play in Super Bowls in four different decades.

In 2001, the Raiders won the AFC West with a 10-6 record, and in the year beginning the new millennium, the Silver and Black posted a 12-4 record and captured the AFC Western Division title. The Raiders have hosted two of the last three AFC Championship Games and their 25 postseason victories are the most of any AFC team. The Raiders 33 wins in the 21st century are an AFC-best.

During these decades of dominance, the Raiders have won an American Football League

Championship, four American Football Conference Championships, three World Championships of Professional Football, participated in five Super Bowls, played in 14 Championship games, won or tied for 17 Division Championships, had 21 playoff seasons, 33 seasons at .500 or better, played in 40 postseason games and won 404 contests.

In that span, the Raiders have also produced five Pro Coaches of the Year, had 14 players inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame and produced 56 Pro Bowl players who made 161 Pro Bowl appearances.

The Raiders are the only team to have been in Super Bowls in the '60s, the '70s, the '80s and the '00s. The Raiders are one of only three original American Football League teams to have won a Super Bowl since 1969 and have already done so three times. The Raiders are one of only two AFC teams to have won two Super Bowls since 1980. The Raiders are the only AFC team to have won Super Bowls under more than one head coach.

Since 1963, when Al Davis first took over the failing Oakland franchise that had struggled to win only nine of 42 league games in the initial three seasons of the new American Football League, and pledged to build the finest organization in sports, the Raiders have totally dominated professional football in terms of consistent victory. During those memorable 40 years in Oakland and Los Angeles, the Raiders have won 372 league games, tied 11 and lost only 219.

The Raiders continue to stand alone atop the NFL for this period with their winning percentage of .629.

Commitment to Excellence has never been an idle phrase to those who have proudly represented the Raider organization during the '60s, '70s, '80s, '90s and now the new millennium as shown by their domination of pro football as the most successful organization for these decades.

Fourteen of the great players who proudly wore Silver and Black, as well as owner-leader Al Davis, have already been enshrined in the Professional Football Hall of Fame. In 1970, as the Raiders began their second decade of play, the merger between the AFL and NFL became a reality on the field. In the 1970-2002 period of interconference play, the Raiders have compiled a remarkable 81-41-1 record against present NFC rivals.

Another innovation came to professional football in 1970 — Monday Night Football. The Raiders total domination of this prime-time ABC television series has seen the Silver and Black build an incredible 36-18-1 record in Monday night play. In the 32 years of this series, the Raiders are 16-2-0 in Monday Night Football games at home. For their five decades—the '60s, '70s, '80s, '90s and now the 2000s — the Raiders have had the greatest players, the greatest coaches, the greatest plays and participated in the greatest games in the annals of professional sports.

Challengers to Raider domination of professional football will arise as they have in the '60s, '70s, '80s, '90s and the new millennium. The Raider organization will continue to meet these challenges. The past has been glorious, but THE GREATNESS OF THE RAIDERS WILL CONTINUE IN ITS FUTURE.

RAIDERS OWNERS

AL DAVIS

An unyielding total commitment to excellence has marked the three-time World Champion Raiders monumental rise during the last 40 years to the very top of the professional sports world. During these decades of destiny, the Raiders battled their way to the best winning percentage in professional football.

In these memorable 40 years, the Raiders have had 28 winning seasons, including 16 in a row from 1965 through the 1980 World Championship season. In 33 of those seasons, the Raiders have earned a record of .500 or better.

Al Davis' six-decade professional football story, from assistant coach of the Chargers, to head coach and general manager of the Raiders, to Commissioner of the American Football League and finally to principal owner and president of the general partner of the organization with pro football's winningest percentage — the Oakland Raiders — is a standard that no one in the history of professional football can match for winning and excellence.

In April, 1966, the then 36-year-old Davis, head coach and general manager of the Raiders, became Commissioner of the American Football League. This was a post he accepted reluctantly, for first and foremost, Al Davis was a football coach, and knew that assuming the Commissionership would in all probability mean an end to his coaching career.

But AFL owners, in their battle with the rival National Football League, prevailed on Davis to accept the position. He was described by AFL president and Buffalo Bills owner Ralph Wilson as "a coaching genius and astute administrator."

Just eight weeks later, when pro football's two major leagues put an end to their six-year war, Davis was acclaimed nationally as the driving force who brought the leagues to merge. In 1969, he was once again a prime force in the dramatic realignment of professional football when two 13-team conferences — the AFC and NFC — were formed for 1970.

As a member of the NFL Management Council's Executive Committee, Davis has been a major factor in achieving collective bargaining agreements with the players.

Al Davis first came to the Raiders in January, 1963, dedicated to rescuing the faltering Oakland franchise and building the finest organization in professional sports. Just 33, Davis was the youngest man in pro football to hold the demanding dual positions of head coach and general manager.

But Davis already possessed 14 years coaching experience. He had been tabbed a "young coaching genius" by Sports Illustrated and "the most inventive mind in the country" by Scholastic Coach magazine.

The Raiders — "picked to finish dead last" — thundered to a 10-4 record and just missed the Division Championship. In 1963, Davis was named Pro Football Coach of the Year.

Perhaps his most singular honor is having made a record eight presentations of inductees to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. The eight great enshrinees to have selected Al Davis to make the presentation speeches on their behalf are Lance Alworth, Jim Otto, George Blanda, Willie Brown, Gene Upshaw, Fred Biletnikoff, Art Shell and Ted Hendricks.

Davis himself became enshrined on August 1, 1992 when he was presented for induction into the Pro Football Hall of Fame by the great former Raiders head coach and now leading television football analyst, John Madden.

In May of 1991, Al Davis became the very first recipient of the NFL Players Association's Retired Players Award of Excellence "for his contributions to the men who played the game."

Born July 4, 1929, Al Davis was raised in Brockton, Massachusetts and moved at an early age to Brooklyn, New York. He attended Wittenberg College and Syracuse University, earning a degree in English while participating in football, basketball and baseball.

Al Davis received a Letterman of Distinction Award from Syracuse University. In March of 1998, Davis was inducted into the NFL Alumni's "Order of the Leather Helmet," presented annually to "individuals who have made significant contributions to the game of professional football."

On December 29, 1999, the Oakland Tribune and the Alameda Newspaper Group named Al Davis as the Bay Area's most significant sports figure of the 20th Century. The Orange Bowl inducted Davis into its Hall of Fame in 2001.

In 1950, Davis was named line coach at Adelphi College in New York. He then went into the Army, being assigned as head football coach at Ft. Belvoir, Virginia. There he molded a national power service team and capped one season by defeating the University of Maryland, National Collegiate Champions, in a squad game.

Davis next served on the staff of the NFL's Baltimore Colts in 1954, at age 24, concentrating on player personnel work. During 1955-56, he was line coach and chief recruiter at The Citadel. He then spent three years at the University of Southern California as line coach.

In 1960, head coach Sid Gillman hired Davis as offensive end coach of the newly formed Los Angeles Chargers. After two Division Championships in just three years there, it was on to meet the challenges with the Raiders of Oakland in 1963.

SUPER BOWL RINGS

The Raiders World Championship rings — awarded to players, coaches, staff and owners after the dominating victories in Super Bowl XI, Super Bowl XV and Super Bowl XVIII — are renowned as the most memorable pieces of championship team jewelry ever produced.

The rings were produced by Lenox Awards of St. Charles, Illinois, whose staff developed creative concepts incorporating the explicit guidelines established by the Raiders — white gold, a raised football-shaped crest of diamonds on a black surface and a design based on "massive excellence" that would recognize these crowning achievements by the Raider organization.

The Super Bowl XVIII ring design features three large diamonds to represent the three World Championships won within eight years, each centered in a football-shaped crest plus an additional 20 five-point diamonds.

The ring was developed by Raider Managing General Partner Al Davis, Head Coach Tom Flores, Executive Assistant Al LoCasale and Lenox Awards President Tom Marzullo.

The Super Bowl XV ring design, featuring two large center diamonds to symbolize the two World Championships won within five years and 33 five-point diamonds on the ring face, was developed by Al Davis, Head Coach Tom Flores, Al LoCasale and Lenox Awards President Tom Brasher.

RAIDERS COACHES

BILL CALLAHAN

Head Coach

Bill Callahan is in his second season as Raiders Head Coach and sixth season as a member of the Silver and Black coaching staff. Callahan, 47, spent four seasons as offensive coordinator for the Silver and Black before being named the 13th head coach in Oakland Raiders history on March 12, 2002. In addition to serving as offensive coordinator from 1998-2001, Callahan also coached the Raiders offensive line for three seasons and doubled as tight ends coach in 1998.

Callahan led the Raiders to the 2002 AFC Championship, the AFC West title — the team's third straight — a No. 1 seed in the AFC and a berth in Super Bowl XXXVII in his first season as head coach of the Silver and Black.

Callahan is just the fourth rookie head coach to lead his team to the Super Bowl after guiding the Raiders to the Super Bowl in an NFL-record fourth different decade. In addition, Callahan is the third Raiders head coach to lead the Silver and Black to an AFC West title and into the conference championship game in his first full season (Art Shell, 1990 and John Madden, 1969).

Under Callahan's guidance, the Raiders led the NFL in passing for the first time and led the league in total offense for just the second time in team history. In 2002, with Callahan in his initial campaign as Raiders head coach, the Raiders broke team records for most total offensive yards (6,237), most first downs (366), most first downs passing (226), most passes attempted (619) and completed (418), most passing yards (4,689) and best completion percentage (67.5).

Aside from Callahan's Raiders in 2002, no other team has ever gone through the same season winning games after throwing at least 60 passes (65 on 9/15 at Pittsburgh, 30-17 W) and rushing at least 60 times (60 on 12/28 vs. Kansas City, 24-0 W). In 2002, the Raiders outscored their opponents by 146 points, the widest margin in the AFC and third widest in the NFL.

Under Callahan in 2002, the Raiders were second in the NFL in scoring (450 points, 28.1 points per game), second in the AFC in points allowed per game (19), third in the NFL in rushing defense (90.8) and sixth in the AFC in total defense. The Raiders also tied for second in the conference in giveaway/takeaway ratio (plus-12) and ranked fifth in the AFC in kickoffs (28-yard average start).

In his rookie season as head coach, Callahan led the Raiders to an 11-5 record while earning the top seed in the AFC despite playing the toughest schedule of any NFL team in 2002. The Raiders defeated every other AFC Division Champion during the 2002 regular season — New York Jets, AFC East; Pittsburgh Steelers, AFC North; Tennessee Titans, AFC South — en route to the Super Bowl.

The Silver and Black then accomplished the difficult feat of beating two of those teams again in the postseason (New York Jets in an AFC Divisional playoff contest and Tennessee in the AFC Championship Game).

Callahan established an NFL mark by becoming the first coach to lead his team to the Super Bowl after guiding his team through a four-game losing streak. The Raiders began the 2002 season with a four-game winning streak and finished strong at 9-1 (7-1 in regular season, 2-0 in postseason) to reach Super Bowl XXXVII.

For his accomplishments in his first year as a head coach at any level, Callahan was named Coach of the Year by the Columbus Touchdown Club of Ohio and Rookie Coach of the Year by Football Digest. He coached the 2002 NFL Most Valuable Player in quarterback Rich Gannon and saw five of his players from the 2002 Raiders squad get selected to the Pro Bowl — Gannon, offensive linemen Lincoln Kennedy and Barret Robbins, wide receiver Jerry Rice and safety Rod Woodson.

In a three-season span, all with Callahan either as offensive coordinator or head coach, the Raiders went from leading the NFL in rushing (2000) to placing first in the league in passing (2002).

In 2001 with Callahan as offensive coordinator, the Raiders captured their second straight AFC Western Division title, finishing second in the AFC (fourth in NFL) in passing at 231.7 yards per game and fourth in the conference in total offense (seventh in NFL) with a 335.1 yards per game average.

Under Callahan's tutelage in 2001, the Raiders allowed only 27 sacks, the least ever in team history in a 16-game regular season, as the Silver and Black advanced to the Divisional round of the AFC Playoffs.

With Callahan as offensive coordinator and coaching the offensive line, the Raiders led the NFL in rushing in 2000, averaging 154.4 yards per game as the Silver and Black advanced to the AFC Championship Game. In addition, the Silver and Black allowed only 28 sacks in 2000, a team record before the Raiders surpassed that mark in 2001.

In 1999 under Callahan as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach, the Raiders were third in the NFL in rushing yards and fifth in total offense. Callahan's first year on the Raiders staff helped the Silver and Black improve four games over the previous season.

Prior to joining the Raiders, Callahan coached the offensive line for the Philadelphia Eagles from 1995-97. His offensive line unit helped the Eagles rank second in the NFC in passing, fifth in rushing and third in total offense in 1997. In 1996, the Eagles led the conference in passing, ranked second in rushing and led the NFC in total offense while in 1995 the Eagles placed fourth in the league in rushing.

From 1990-94, Callahan was offensive line coach at the University of Wisconsin where Badger offensive linemen earned nine first-team All-Big Ten honors. While at Wisconsin, Callahan helped build a program that won the Big Ten title and played in the 1994 Rose Bowl.

In 1989, he was offensive coordinator at Southern Illinois, where his offensive unit set 18 school records. Callahan served a two-year stint, 1987-88, as offensive line coach at Northern Arizona.

The Chicago native began his college coaching career in 1980 as a graduate assistant at Illinois before being promoted to full time assistant in 1981, coaching tight ends, offensive line, quarterbacks and special teams through 1986.

Callahan was a three-year starter at quarterback at Illinois Benedictine in Lisle, Illinois, where he was a NAIA honorable mention All-American in his final two seasons. After graduating from Illinois Benedictine, Callahan taught and coached both football and baseball at Oaklawn High School in Oaklawn, Illinois in 1978. The following year, Callahan taught and coached at De La Salle High School in Chicago.

The Callahan family includes wife Valerie and their four children — Brian, Daniel, Cathryn and Jaclyn.

CHUCK BRESNAHAN

Defensive Coordinator

Chuck Bresnahan is in his fourth season as the Raiders defensive coordinator after serving two seasons coaching the team's defensive backs. Last season with Bresnahan as defensive coordinator, the Raiders ranked second in the AFC (third in NFL) in rushing yards allowed per attempt, second in the AFC (sixth in NFL) in points allowed per game (19) while capturing a third straight AFC Western Division title and the AFC Championship. In 2002, the Raiders ranked third in the NFL in rushing defense while ranking sixth in the AFC in total defense. In 2001, the Raiders ranked fifth in the AFC (ninth in the NFL) against the pass. In 2000 with Bresnahan as defensive coordinator, the Raiders ranked fifth in the NFL in rushing defense and fourth in the AFC (seventh in NFL) in takeaways. He was linebackers coach with the Indianapolis Colts from 1996-97 and coached linebackers with the Cleveland Browns from 1994-95. Bresnahan, 42, was defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at the University of Maine from 1992-93. From 1988-91, he was an assistant at Georgia Tech, handling tight ends in his first season, then moving to inside linebackers. While at Georgia Tech, the school shared a National Championship in 1990. Before joining the coaching ranks as a graduate assistant in 1983 for the Naval Academy, Bresnahan was a three-year letterman at Navy where he helped claim three Commander-in-Chief trophies. From 1983-87, he was a commissioned officer in the Navy at the Adak, Alaska Naval Air Station, where he was a supply and nuclear weapons safety officer. He returned to Navy to coach the wide receivers/tight ends and special teams from 1986-87. Bresnahan's father was a coaching veteran of 17 years in the NFL. Bresnahan and his wife Erin have four daughters: Megan, Caitlin, Caroline and Danielle.

MARC TRESTMAN

Offensive Coordinator

Marc Trestman is in his second year as Raiders offensive coordinator and third on the Raiders coaching staff after spending three seasons as offensive coordinator of the Arizona Cardinals. RAIDERS FOOTBALL STAFF

BRUCE ALLEN

Senior Assistant

Bruce Allen, a veteran of four decades in sports management, coaching, scouting and administration, joined the Raiders in February 1995. Allen was named NFL Executive of the Year following the 2002 season when the Raiders became the only team in pro football history to appear in Super Bowls in four different decades. In 1985, Allen established GBA Sportsworld, an athlete representation and marketing company. When the United States Football League was formed in 1982, Allen worked with his father, the late George Allen — the legendary coach who also served as head coach of the Los Angeles Rams and Washington Redskins — when his dad was head coach of the Chicago Blitz. In their first season together, the Allens helped lead the Blitz to the Central Division title in the USFL. A year later, with the team relocated to Phoenix and renamed the Arizona Wranglers, they captured the USFL's Western Conference title. Allen previously served as Vice President of Operations for the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League in 1982. In the two previous years, the 46-year-old Pasadena, California native was a consultant for a major New York-based company, while doing scouting for the Raiders and serving as head coach and general manager of a semi-pro football team. In 1980, at age 22, he became head coach at Occidental College. In 1979, Allen coached quarterbacks at Arizona State. Allen played football at the University of Richmond from 1974-77, where he was an All-Conference punter while earning a bachelor's degree in Business Marketing and was a 12th round draft pick by the Baltimore Colts in 1978. Allen and his wife Kiersten have one son and one daughter.

RAIDERS ADMINISTRATION

AL LoCASALE

Executive Assistant

Now in his fifth decade in charge of Raiders administration, Al LoCasale first joined the organization in 1969. Prior to that, he was Director of Player Personnel for the San Diego Chargers and the Cincinnati Bengals, helping build playoff teams for both organizations. LoCasale is an original American Football League executive, having helped form the Los Angeles Chargers when the American Football League — professional football's most successful new league — started in 1960. After seven years with the Chargers in Los Angeles and San Diego, including five Division Championships and one American Football League Championship, LoCasale became the first employee hired when Pro Football Hall of Fame member Paul Brown was awarded the Cincinnati Bengals expansion franchise. With the new Cincinnati team, LoCasale built the player personnel system that enabled the Bengals to become the first National Football League expansion team ever to win a division championship in just its third season of play. During his 50 years in football — 35 with the Raiders — LoCasale served as administrative assistant to the head football coach at the University of Southern California before joining the Chargers. He coached at the University of Pennsylvania — his alma mater — and at the U.S. Naval Training Center at Bainbridge, Maryland while on active duty in the Navy, in addition to coaching at the scholastic level in Philadelphia. LoCasale has done extensive work in both radio and television broadcasting since the early Sixties and is the author of a number of books, periodicals and films. LoCasale is a founding member of the National Football League Working Executives Group, serves on the Board of Directors of both National Football League Properties and NFL Films and is a representative of the Raiders on the NFL Executive Committee and the National Football League Management Council. LoCasale was awarded an honorary doctorate degree by Pepperdine University in 1995 for his fundraising activities for the Boy Scouts of America. The LoCasale family includes wife Jananne and sons Nicholas, 24, and Alexander, 20.

March 27—Raiders announce plans to hold summer training camp in Napa, California with team being housed at the Napa Marriott Hotel and practices held on the grounds of the adjacent Redwood Middle School. April 20—The Raiders select Ohio State tight end Rickey Dudley in the first round of the 1996 draft. June 17—Raiders move into Alameda facility, just one mile from the team's old training facility on Doolittle Drive."This is the final step in a tremendous process of relocating the organization. This state-of-the-art facility will provide the Raiders organization a positive, winning environment. When completed, this facility will be the finest in all of professional sports and will provide a solid base for years to come, as the true greatness of the Raiders is in its future." July 12—Raiders open training camp in Napa. July 27—Raiders open 1996 preseason versus Cowboys in Dallas. September 1 —

Raiders open their 37th league season of pro football with inaugural league contest in Baltimore versus Ravens. September 15—Raiders open 1996 home league schedule against Jacksonville in newly-renovated Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum.

January 25—Former defensive back Mike Haynes becomes the ninth Raider voted into Pro Football Hall of Fame, joining owner Al Davis, center Jim Otto, quarterback-kicker George Blanda, cornerback Willie Brown, guard Gene Upshaw, wide receiver Fred Biletnikoff, offensive tackle Art Shell and linebacker Ted Hendricks. January 30—Raiders name Joe Bugel — whose coaching career has spanned four decades — as head coach. Bugel, 56, becomes the 11th head coach in the organization's 37 years of professional football competition. Bugel is a veteran of over 30 years of coaching, including 21 in the NFL and the last two with the Silver and Black as the team's assistant head coach/offense. The native of football-rich Western Pennsylvania was head coach for the Phoenix Cardinals from 1990-93, accumulating a 20-44 record, including a 7-9 record in his final season while playing in the tough NFC Eastern Division. February 2—Three Raiders play in Pro Bowl in Honolulu: wide receiver Tim Brown, cornerback Terry McDaniel and defensive tackle Chester McGlockton. March 31—The Raiders moved up eight spots in the first round of the NFL Draft, acquiring the second overall selection in a trade with the New Orleans Saints. April 19—Raiders select USC defensive lineman Darrell Russell in the first round of the 1997 NFL Draft. May 8—The Silver and Black and Susquehanna Radio Corp. announce that Raider games will be carried on "The Ticket," 1050 AM, the Bay Area's newest all-sports radio station. "The Oakland Raiders are excited about participating in the new radio venture which will offer to Raider fans a dynamic perspective of pro football's winningest team," said Raiders Chief Executive Amy Trask. "We look forward to helping build a championship radio station — one that, like the Raiders, is a powerful force with a 'Commitment to Excellence.'" July 19—Raiders open second year of training camp based in Napa, California. July 26—Former Raider cornerback Mike Haynes inducted into Pro Football Hall of Fame in ceremony in Canton, Ohio. August 31—Silver and Black open their 38th league season of pro football and 25th year as Oakland Raiders with inaugural league contest versus the Tennessee Oilers in Memphis. September 8—Raiders open 1997 home league schedule on Monday Night against Kansas City Chiefs at the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum. December 21—Tim Brown passed Pro Football Hall of Famer Fred Biletnikoff for the top spot on the Raiders all-time receiving list after catching a 20-yard pass from Jeff George in the first quarter of Raiders-Jacksonville contest. Biletnikoff, the Raiders receivers coach, had 589 career catches. Brown also set a Raiders record for receptions in a single game against Jacksonville with 14, breaking his own record of 12 on November 19, 1995 against Dallas.

January 22—Jon Gruden—a veteran of seven years of NFL coaching experience and six at the college level—was named as head coach of the Oakland Raiders. Gruden spent three seasons as offensive coordinator for the Philadelphia Eagles after serving as receivers coach for the Green Bay Packers. Gruden, 34, becomes the youngest head coach presently employed in the NFL and the third-youngest in the history of the Silver and Black. Raiders owner Al Davis was 33 when he was named head coach and general manager in 1963 while John Madden was 32 when he was promoted to head coach in 1969. February 1—Three Raiders play in Pro Bowl: wide receiver Tim Brown, defensive tackle Chester McGlockton and guard Steve Wisniewski. April 19—Raiders select Michigan defensive back Charles Woodson with the fourth overall pick in the 1998 draft. RAIDERS RADIO NETWORK

For the seventh consecutive year, KNBR 1050 (KTCT 1050 AM), The Sports Leader, will serve as the radio home and flagship station of the Oakland Raiders Radio Network.

"We're really excited about extending our partnership with KNBR 1050," said Oakland Raiders Senior Assistant Bruce Allen. "Since the birth of the station in 1997, KNBR 1050 has been a fantastic vehicle that allows fans to stay connected with the Silver and Black. This partnership is one that other sports franchises can only dream of."

The 50,000-watt station will anchor the 28-station radio network in seven states including California, Nevada, Hawaii, New Mexico, Utah, Washington and Oregon. This year, KNBR 1050's sister station, "107.7 The Bone" (KSAN 107.7 FM) in San Francisco will also carry all Raiders games in stereo.

"With the addition of our sister station, 107.7 The Bone, this simulcast will be like none other in the National Football League," said Tony Salvadore, Vice President/Market Manager. "With the combination of KNBR 1050 'The Sports Leader' and The Bone's Classic Rock format, we are adding more choices for Bay Area Raiders fans and more power to the Raiders play-by-play broadcasts."

KNBR 1050's Raiders Radio play-by-play announcer Greg Papa returns for his seventh season broadcasting the Silver and Black. Papa also serves the Bay Area as the television voice of the Oakland A's. Papa got his start in broadcasting in 1984, as the Indiana Pacers back-up announcer and in 1986 did play-by-play for the Golden State Warriors.

Papa will team up with former Raiders quarterback and head coach Tom Flores. Flores is one of only two people in NFL history to have a Super Bowl ring as a player, assistant coach and head coach. He earned his rings as a reserve quarterback with the Kansas City Chiefs in Super Bowl IV, as an assistant with the Raiders in Super Bowl XI and as a head coach of the Silver and Black in Super Bowls XV and XVIII.

Rod Brooks, who anchors the Noon-3pm slot on KNBR 1050, returns to the broadcast team as the sideline reporter. KNBR 1050 Program Director Lee Hammer returns for his sixth year as the Executive Producer of the Oakland Raiders Radio Network.

KNBR 1050's three-hour pre-game show and one-hour post-game show will be anchored again by JT The Brick, host of The Brickhouse on the Fox Sports Radio Network and can be heard weekdays from 7-10pm on KNBR 1050. He'll be joined again this season by Raiders legends George Atkinson and David Humm, who'll be joined again by former NFL and Pac-10 coach and college football analyst Artie Gigantino.

Raiders football is an integral part of KNBR 1050's weekday line-up. The station features both The Bill Callahan Show and The Tim Brown Show.

In addition to serving as the home of the Raiders, KNBR 1050 is also the flagship station of San Jose SaberCats Arena Football, and co-flagship of the Golden State Warriors. KNBR 1050 also carries the Super Bowl, AFC and NFC Championships, the NBA and NHL Playoffs, MLB All-Star Game, Playoffs and the World Series, the Indy 500, NASCAR, March Madness, Sunday night baseball and NCAA Football bowl games.

RAIDERS SPANISH RADIO

For the second season, Oakland Raiders football will be broadcast on the Raiders Spanish Radio Network. Raiders fans can listen to veteran Bay Area broadcasters Erwin Higueros calling the action and Ambrosio Rico providing color analysis locally on KAZA Radio 1290 AM, the Official Flagship Spanish Radio Station for the Oakland Raiders.

Higueros and Rico are reunited after having worked on Spanish broadcasts of Raiders games in 1995 and 1996. Higueros has more than 12 years of experience in Spanish radio. He's the only Spanish broadcaster to announce NFL, MLB and NHL games. Higueros also currently announces baseball for the San Francisco Giants. Rico has been on the Bay Area sports broadcasting scene since 1991.

The broadcasts open with a pregame show 15 minutes before kickoff. Higueros and Rico analyze the proceeding contest, the NFL standings, the history between the two teams meeting that day and the keys to victory for the Raiders and the opponent.

After the game, Higueros and Rico wrap up with a summary of each quarter, discuss that day's scores across the NFL and look ahead to the next week's opponent.

RAIDERS TV

Silver and Black Productions, the Raiders in-house television production operation, will once again provide viewers with innovative, cutting-edge and behind-the-scenes content devoted solely to the Oakland Raiders.

Two dynamic television shows will air in the Bay Area as well as in additional television outlets throughout California, Nevada and Hawaii and will feature the personalities that make up the NFL's most dynamic organization.

In addition, Silver and Black Productions will produce three of the team's four preseason games, except for the nationally televised (ESPN) Thursday night contest vs. the San Francisco 49ers.

"The Oakland Raiders Silver and Black Show" consists of an in-depth comprehensive week-by-week analysis of the Silver and Black throughout the entire 2003 NFL season. The show also offers a retrospective look at the previous week's Raider game and a breakdown preview of the upcoming contest with a look at the matchups.

Features on players past and present are part of the new, cutting-edge program profiling the Silver and Black. Raiders radio play-by-play man Greg Papa hosts the half-hour show while Raider Legend Jim Plunkett, MVP of Super Bowl XV, is co-host.

"Behind the Shield" provides viewers with unprecedented access for an inside look at pro football's winningest team. This unique show offers a behind-the-scenes perspective on the Raiders preparation for the upcoming week's game as experienced by the entire organization including players, coaches and team personnel.

Raiders Legend George Atkinson, who roamed the secondary for the Silver and Black from 1968-77, hosts this television show.

"We believe these two shows offer NFL fans insight and innovation into the world of pro football," said Raiders Senior Assistant Bruce Allen. "These network-quality shows take the viewer on a unique ride throughout the 2003 season into the inner workings of The Oakland Raiders, allowing players and coaches to tell the story of what it takes to play a game."

Both shows are produced by the Raiders own Silver and Black Productions. The shows originate from Silver and Black Productions state-of-the-art studio located within the Raiders 100,000-square foot Alameda facility.

RAIDERS.COM

The Raiders were among the first professional sports teams to launch an official web site when the team went online in 1995. Since then, the site has evolved into one of the top online destinations in all of sports. In late 2002, the Raiders broke new ground again with the launch of Raiders en Español.com (www.raidersenespañol.com), the first complete Spanish-language web site in the National Football League.

Located at http://www.raiders.com, the site continues to provide comprehensive photography, official press releases, transactions, player biographies, profiles on current and former players and team personnel, along with features and updates on the Raiders Commitment to Community. Raiders.com also features the only online daily video news program in the NFL — On the Edge — which features in depth-interviews, press conference highlights and much more.

During games, fans can access the Raiders.com Game Center and view live updates, sideline action photography and listen to a live audio stream from the Raiders flagship radio station — KNBR 1050. Comprehensive game recaps, post-game press conferences and complete game statistics are available after each game.

In addition, Raiders.com provides complete NFL Draft, team mini-camp, training camp and Raiderettes coverage. In April 2003, the team offered "live" coverage of the 2003 NFL Draft in both English and Spanish.

In 2003, the official web site of The Oakland Raiders — www.raiders.com — and its sister site Raiders en Español — www.raidersenespañol.com — will continue to use cutting edge technology to provide the Raider Nation with news, information, team history and entertainment, offering visitors an in-depth, state-of-the-art look at the Silver and Black.

THE RAIDER IMAGE

THE RAIDER IMAGE, the official merchandise arm of The Oakland Raiders, is back and better than ever.

The Raiders are No.1 among NFL teams in merchandise sales. Raider items and apparel sales represent the largest share of the multi-billion dollar NFL merchandise market and the Image is proving to be a bigger part of that.

The Image launched an online E-store in September of 1999 on the official web site, www.raiders.com. In August of 2000, the Raiders followed up their Internet success with their first store located at Southland Mall in Hayward, CA. The store's success was a tribute to the greatness of the Raiders and Raider fans and The Raider Image is the leader in providing the best selection of Raider merchandise to fans around the world.

In 2001, two more store locations were added to provide Raiders merchandise to the fans in the far reaches of the Bay Area. July 2001 brought The Raider Image to Eastridge Mall in San Jose, CA and the North Bay welcomed the third store to Sun Valley Mall in Concord, CA.

In 2002, seven new stores opened across California — the Arden Fair Mall in Sacramento, in Southern California at the Lakewood Mall, Montebello Town Center and Fox Hills Mall in Culver City, and in the Bay Area at the NewPark Mall in Newark, the Hilltop Mall in Richmond and West Gate Center in San Leandro.

The successful chain of stores continues to grow with two new stores in 2003 with the addition of the Raiders Signature Store at Universal CityWalk in Universal City and the Raider Image at the Gilroy Premium Outlets. Keep checking www.raiders.com for current and future store locations.

Raiders Train In Napa

The Oakland Raiders are now in their seventh year of summer training in Napa, California. The Raiders are housed at the Napa Valley Marriott Hotel and Conference Center with practice sessions held at the adjacent Redwood Middle School.

The state-of-the-art facility located in the Napa Valley has two 100-yard practice fields with an additional 50-yard field. The Raiders summer training facility also consists of a 10,000-square foot field house that includes locker rooms, showers, training and equipment quarters. There's an additional 3,000-square foot outdoor weight training area.

The facilities serve the Raiders during the summer training camp period and are available for Napa youth activities and other community functions during the year.

In 2003, the Raiders squad will report to Napa for the start of training camp on July 24.
